Morning Program

Commanding the May-Day & RIC Operations

Are your command team members ready to handle a May-Day situation? This presentation is a must for company and chief officers and will assist with the "how to" when developing a detailed rescue plan for rescuing one of your own. The presentation breaks down the action steps during a Rapid Intervention deployment through the eyes of the Incident Commander, Operations Section Chief, Rescue Group Supervisor, Division Supervisors, and the Company Officer. These steps will be illustrated through two actual case studies where firefighters' became trapped and lost during fire ground operations.

Afternoon Program:

Rescue of Fire Captain Gary Morgan – In His Own Words

In October of 2000, Fire Captain Gary Morgan of the County of Los Angeles Fire Department fell through a floor into a fiery basement while fighting a commercial building fire. He came within five minutes of losing his life before being rescued by Rapid Intervention Crews.

The presentation will provide a detailed account of what occurred leading up to his entrapment that night and in-depth personal and moving dialogue provided by Captain Morgan, which describes his challenges, unique circumstances, and struggles to stay alive prior to being rescued. How many times have you had the opportunity to ask a question of someone who survived a near death experience and who was successfully rescued after being entrapped in a basement for over 20 minutes? If you haven't heard this presentation you don't realize what you are missing. A must for all fire service personnel!
